BOVRIL AT THE FRONT.
Bovril has played such a conspicuous part in South Africa that it forms an indispensable feature of the story. The "Lancet" has had frequent references to Bovril in the reports of the officers of the Royal Army Medical Corps. Nearly every newspaper correspondent has had to refer to Bovril to make his story complete. Rudyard Kipling and Baden-Powell have written their Bovril stories. Over 500 British hospitals and similar public institutions use and prescribe Bovril, not beef tea, but Bovril.
The reason is not far to seek. Bovril is a nourisher as well as a stimulant. It contains the albumen and fibre, the sustaining properties of the beef. It is this fact, together with its absolute purity, that compels Bovril to physicians and scientists, and proves in practice what it demonstrates in analysis.

ONE OF THE NEW KNIGHTS.

Sir William Allan, 'Ex Buc-caneer'.

Sir William Allan was once described by a political opponent as 'an ex-pirate or buccaneer, or something of that sort.' Of course nothing worse than a chaffing allusion to his blockade-running experiences was intended. Sir William once told me (writes a military correspondent) the story of his adventures in that perilous occupation. It would be far too long to repeat it in detail here, but I may note some of its more interesting features.

BLOCKADE RUNNING.

He had served for a while in the engineering department of the Royal Navy, but did not like the position and prospects of engineers in the service as it then was, and he gave it up and went to sea again in a merchant steamer. When fortunes were being made in blockade-running, Allan signed on as chief engineer, and made a first successful trip into the Savannah river. A second run ended in disaster. One dark night, as the blockade-runner, with all lights masked, ran into the Savannah, she was suddenly hailed by a Federal cruiser that was waiting for her in the darkness. 'Stop your engines or we shall sink you,' was the summons from the cruiser, which had suddenly shown her lights and run out her guns close alongside.

SIR WILLIAM'S STORY.

'I stopped the engines,' said Sir William, as he told the story, 'and began to blow off steam. A boat from the Federal ship had come alongside, and suddenly an officer rushed into my engine-room and put a revolver to my head. He was in a rage, and told me I had opened the valves and was trying to sink the steamer. I must close them at once. I asked him who he was, and he answered, 'I'm the engineer of the steamer that has taken you. I can't believe you are an engineer.' I said quietly, 'or you would have a sparker or an oil-can in your fist, instead of felling about with a pistol, and you would know that I am only blowing off a bit of steam.' At this cool reply the officer dropped his pistol and the two were soon good friends.

THE MAKING OF A FORTUNE.

Imprisoned in Richmond, Allan tried in vain to get a letter out to the British consul. At last, one night, a chance word of the sentry placed over the prisoners told him that the man was from his own district. He got him to take out a letter, and subsequently he found the Confederate soldier to be the husband of a woman from his own native village. After his liberation Allan gave up the sea and became a foreman in an engineering works in the north of England. Things were going very badly, and the directors were talking of closing the works, when he suggested to one of them a plan, and policy that might save the situation. He was asked to explain it to the board, and his ideas were accepted. Not only that, but he was appointed manager, with full power to carry his plans into execution. This was his chance and he took it. 'I never worked so hard as in that year,' he says. Within the first year his policy was amply justified by success. He had 'taken the flood' that tide in the affairs of men that leads to fortune, and was before many years at the head of a great engineering works of his own, the first, by-the-way, in all England to adopt the eight hours system.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

A week or two ago, we made some comments upon a decision of Mr. KEMP, Police Magistrate, on the hiring of rickshaws.

The case, we understand, has been thoroughly investigated by the Officer Administering the Government, and the Magistrate's decision is upheld because of a fact which was not brought out in the newspaper reports of the case. It seems that it has been the practice of some of the officers living at Gun Club Hill to pay the coolies ten cents, though the ricksha was taken from the Ferry Wharf station. This, of course, is not a legal fare, the proper amount being fifteen cents, and what the Magistrate wished to emphasize was that the coolie was justified in refusing hire in this case because it was a fair assumption that he would not be paid his legal fare. As we have said, the Magistrate's decision is upheld. The Magistrate, it seems, did not wish it to be inferred—nor did he say so, it is now stated—that the party wishing to hire a ricksha must do so "in person." As this was the remark upon which our recent article was based, we have much pleasure in correctly stating Mr. Kemp's attitude in the matter. At the same time, we would point out that it should not be necessary to send to the Wharf for a ricksha. During Mr. F. H. May's superintendency of the Police, a ricksha stand was established in Carnarvon Road, and we believe it is stipulated in the ricksha contractor's licence that he must keep a certain number of rickshas there. Why is not this stipulation enforced now?

Black and White.
A Home paper says:—A certain amount of bad feeling has been engendered between the white and black Colonial troops at Alexandra Palace, the principal cause being the manner in which the black men have come to treat white women. This irritated some of the South African soldiers, and two negroes got roughly handled. From our own information, we may state that if the black troops have been some what loose in their treatment of white women, it has largely been the result of the behavior of these women; their manner has frequently been such as no man who has been East of Suez likes to see.

Local Share Gambling.
It would appear (says the Strait Times) that there has been a somewhat serious crisis in the Shanghai share market. According to Shanghai papers there was a great and artificial inflation of prices last spring followed by a slight set back in the summer and autumn, but the local arbitrage houses, in order to protect themselves against a fall, began to buy up shares in the spring. Then in April Hongkong unloaded large blocks of Indo-China shares on Shanghai at high prices, and in order to settle this "bear" operation, a Shanghai Syndicate bought up all the loose shares with the intention of forcing these back upon Hongkong at whatever price it chose to dictate. But Hongkong shareholders were equal to the occasion, and got their private agents in Shanghai to work, with the result that a leakage began which proved Shanghai's undoing. Now Hongkong has "seen" Shanghai badly. In June there were a number of failures and in July there was a rush to sell. It is estimated that Shanghai has lost to Hongkong over a million taels in hard cash, the brokers themselves having dropped some three lakhs. Share gambling is apparently far from being all beer and skittles, and there is much sorrow over the fact amongst the winners of the Model Settlement.

India—Only for Apprenticeship.
Mr. T. R. Wynne, Agent and Chief Engineer of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, who is coming to China for 18 months, in returning thanks for the toast to himself at a farewell dinner in Calcutta, gave young men going to India on railway work some advice by pointing out that, though he considered India the grandest training ground for railway men in the world, his advice to them was not to stay too long in the country and not to make it their home. He considered that after a good training and grounding of 10 or 12 years in India, a man should strike out on a new line; he should seek new places and countries where there was more room for expansion and greater scope for initiative, and bring his Indian experience to bear there. He regarded himself as having delayed doing this too long, but even now, late in life, he was going to experiment in China, and he was sure his Indian experience would assist him there very much indeed.

Capt W. H. Freeman of the s.s. Fish Hawk died at Penang General Hospital on July 28. He was a well-known skipper, and had been sailing between Straits ports and Sumatra for the last three years.

The Hongkong-Manila Run.
Captain Ramsey, s.s. Zephyr, and Blackland, s.s. Paria, having left the service of the China and Manila Steam Navigation Company (the latter, it is understood, on 12-months' leave), Captains Latsonbury and McGinty, of the same Company, have taken their respective places.

The Malacca Collision.
The Marine Court of Enquiry investigating the circumstances regarding the Prinz Alexander—Bon Jin Gun collision re-assembled on the 7th inst., at Singapore, to give its decision. After deliberating in private for nearly three-quarters of an hour, the President, Mr. Bradman said: "We have decided that this is a case in which it is not necessary to deal with the certificates of any of the officers before the Court, and the finding will therefore be published in the usual manner in the Government Gazette."

A Sensitive Bank Manager.
"F.A.G." writes in the Kohu Chronicle:—"There is a story going round Yokohama of an irate Bank which withdrew its advertisements, printing work, its own subscriptions, and the subscriptions of its employees from one newspaper there because the newspaper had reported the proceedings in a law case in full. So at least I am told, but the story seems incredible. No Bank manager, surely, would be so foolish as to visit on the unoffending head of a newspaper the offences, if they are offences, of counsel speaking for his client in court of justice. Fancy Mr. Chamberlain stopping the Times because it reported the latest criticism of his methods by Mr. Lloyd-George!"

India—Only for Apprenticeship.
Mr. T. R. Wynne, Agent and Chief Engineer of the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, who is coming to China for 18 months, in returning thanks for the toast to himself at a farewell dinner in Calcutta, gave young men going to India on railway work some advice by pointing out that, though he considered India the grandest training ground for railway men in the world, his advice to them was not to stay too long in the country and not to make it their home. He considered that after a good training and grounding of 10 or 12 years in India, a man should strike out on a new line; he should seek new places and countries where there was more room for expansion and greater scope for initiative, and bring his Indian experience to bear there. He regarded himself as having delayed doing this too long, but even now, late in life, he was going to experiment in China, and he was sure his Indian experience would assist him there very much indeed.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Rehearsal of Coronation.
A rehearsal of the Coronation was held in Westminster Abbey on the 1st inst. The Duke of Norfolk, the Earl of Rothesay, Viscount Wolsley, the Earl of Derby and other peers participated.

Public Schools Shooting Match.
A large number of visitors to Bisleigh, on the 18th ult., witnessed the shooting of the 35 school teams in the Ashburton Shield contest. There were also 21 school pairs for the Cadets' Challenge Trophy. The Shield and Medals were won by the Cheltenham Engineers, with 400 points, being three points above Harrow.

Hongkong and the Coronation.
The Overland China Mail of the 16th inst. will contain the fullest report of the local celebration of the Coronation. Anyone desirous of sending away copies by Sunday's mail should send to this office a list of addresses, and the copies will be despatched by us. Cash should accompany the order, the price per copy (including postage) being 2s. 6d. Orders with which cash is sent will receive first attention.

The Ricksha Strike at Penang.
A telegram in the Singapore Free Press of the 7th inst. says:—"The strike of Ricksha pullers still continues. There were no disturbances yesterday. This morning, the police arrested a Chinese Jaba, and the crowd attempted a rescue, but without success. The strike apparently is not due to the action of the Registrar, but is caused by the excessive charges levied on the pullers by the registered owners of the rickshas."

Sir Henry Blake.
The Lat Pau of the 18th July says:—"The appointment of an A.D.C. to Sir Henry Blake, Governor of Hongkong, betokened the fact that his Excellency was returning to the colony, which had been hardly looked for in many quarters, and not exactly desired in others. Sir Henry Blake, accompanied by Lady and Miss Blake, leave tomorrow, via Canada, by the steamer New England from Liverpool, en route for the colony."

The C.P.R. in Parliament.
The following motion, proposed by Mr. Austen Chamberlain, relating to the Post Office (Halifax or Quebec) and Hongkong Mail Contract was adopted by the House of Commons:—"That the contract with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, dated Oct. 12, 1901, for the conveyance of His Majesty's mails, troops, and stores between Halifax (or Quebec) and Hongkong, for the period from April 7, 1901, to April 6, 1906, printed in Parliamentary Papers, No. 21, of Session 1902, be approved."

A Re-action.
The Singapore Free Press of the 8th inst. says:—"After the glowing record of H.M.S. Terrible the critics of Tanjong Paper evidently had a severe reaction, for it is rumoured that the Sea Breeze went in to sail the other day and established a new record of another sort. In all, by dint of strenuous exertion and unremitting labour, they actually got 60 tons of coal into the ship in three hours! The story goes on to relate that some of the hardest workers were the officers of the ship, who were most directly concerned in the coaling, who are said to have expended an unheard of amount of energy in praising (1) the coolies and management generally."

The Night Soil Nuisance.
The Singapore Free Press of the 8th inst. reports:—"Several Chinese vegetable grocers were summoned to-day for not removing night soil and for using night soil as manure. Mr. Wilson imposed fines ranging from $20 to $25 and costs. Many other summonses in connection with the night soil nuisance were down for
